INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING BACKUP WITHHOLDING AND CERTIFICATION OF SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER Substitute IRS Form W-9 (Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code)

PLEASE READ AND FOLLOW THESE INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY WHEN APPLYING FOR ANY CREDIT UNION ACCOUNT.

General Information and Highlights. Members Credit Union (along with all other financial institutions) must generally withhold 28% of taxable interest, dividends, and certain other payments if you fail to furnish us, under penalty of perjury, your correct taxpayer identification number which, in case of individuals, is your social security number. This 28% withholding is referred to as backup withholding. In addition, you may be notified by the Internal Revenue Service that you are subject to backup withholding under Section 3406 (a)(1)(C) because you under-reported interest or dividends or you were requested to but failed to file a return which would have included a reportable interest or dividend payment.

Backup Withholding. As a rule, you will be subject to backup withholding if:

- (1) You fail to furnish us your social security number, or
- (2) The Internal Revenue Services notifies us that you furnished an incorrect social security number, or
- (3) You are notified that you are subject to backup withholding (under section 3406 (a)(1)(C), or
- (4) For an interest or dividend account opened after December 31, 1983, you fail to certify to us that you are not subject to backup withholding under (3) above, or fail to certify your social security number.

For payments other than interest or dividend, you are subject to backup withholding only if (1) or (2) above applies.

(Also see the section entitled "Payments Exempt from Backup Withholding.")

Completing Account Application Cards. Each account application contains a box for entering a social security number and a signature line to certify the correctness of this number. Each card also contains a box to certify that you are not subject to backup withholding. In order to prevent backup withholding, you must (1) Enter the correct Social Security Number or Taxpayer Identification Number where required, (2) Sign where indicated to certify, under penalty of perjury, that this is your correct SSN/TIN and that you are not subject to backup withholding (but only if you have NOT been so notified).

IMPORTANT: Check the backup withholding box only if you are subject to backup withholding by the IRS.

What number should be used? You must give us the social security number of the record owner of the account as outlined in the table below. If it is an individual account (no joint owner), there should not be any questions. Social security numbers have nine digits separated by two hyphens, i.e. 000-00-000. The table below should help you in determining the number.

For this type of account:	Give the social security number of:
1. An individual account.	The individual.
2. Husband and wife (joint account).	The spouse listed as the primary member on the account (i.e. first name listed).
3. Revocable trust account (grantor is also trustee) for a minor.	The grantor-trustee.
4. Custodian account of a minor (Uniform Gift to Minors Act).	The minor.
5. Two or more individuals who are not spouses (joint account).	The primary member listed on the account (i.e. first name listed).
6. Account and minor (joint account).	The adult, or if the minor is the only contributor, the minor.
7. Sole proprietorship account.	The owner.
8. Trust account that is not legal or valid under state law.	The actual owner.

Obtaining a Number. If you do not have a social security number or you do not know your number, obtain Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Number Card, at the local office of the Social Security Administration or the Internal Revenue Service and apply for a number. Write "applied for" in the Social Security Number box on the account application in place of your number. When you get a number, obtain an IRS Form W-9 from any Internal Revenue Office. Complete this form for the account and mail it to the credit union office.

Penalties.

- (1) Penalty for Failure to Furnish Social Security Number. If you fail to furnish your social security number to us, you are subject to an IRS penalty of $50 for each such failure unless your failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.
- (2) Failure to Report Certain Dividends and Interest Payments. If you fail to include any portion of an includable payment for interest, dividends, or patronage dividends in gross income, such failure will be treated as being due to negligence and will be subject to an IRS penalty of 5% on any portion of an underpayment attributable to that failure unless there is clear and convincing evidence to the contrary.
- (3) Civil Penalty For False Information With Respect to Withholding. If you make a false statement with no reasonable basis which results in no backup withholding, you are subject to an IRS penalty of $500.
- (4) Criminal Penalty for Falsifying Information. Falsifying certifications or affirmations may subject you to criminal penalties including fines and/or imprisonment.

Payments Exempt From Backup Withholding

Payments of interest not generally subject to backup withholding include the following:

- * Payments of interest on obligations issued by individuals.

NOTE: You may be subject to backup withholding if this interest is $600 or more and is paid in the course of the payer's trade or business and you have not provided your correct taxpayer identification number to the payer.

- * Payments of tax-exempt interest (including Individual Retirement Accounts and other exempt-interest dividends under section 852).
- * Payments on tax-free covenant bonds under section 1451.
- * Payments made by certain foreign organizations.

Certain payments other than interest, dividends, and patronage dividends that are not subject to information reporting are also not subject to backup withholding. For details see the regulations under section 6041, 6041A(a), 6045, and 6050A.

Privacy Act Notice. Section 6019 requires most recipients of dividend, interest, or other payments to give taxpayer identification numbers to payers who must report the payments to IRS. IRS uses the number for identification purposes. Payers must be given the number whether or not recipients are required to file tax returns. Beginning January 1, 1993, payers must generally withhold 31% of taxable interest, dividends and certain other payments to a payee who does not furnish taxpayer identification number to a payer. Certain penalties may also apply.
